

TITLE	Error message on Kitchen&Dining page
WHY	This section of the website (Kitchen&Dining) is of great importance to the client because it represents a good chunk of the products they offer to the market. With that not working, our client is limited in their product-showcase, therefore limited in their potential sales.
TO-DO	Do this test again so the results could be confirmed again and get to know the situation. Afterwards this should be looked into deeply, by analyzing the code, first on the front end if it exists at all (not just a simple element in the HTML/CSS, but as a page with JavaScript, files, templates etc.). If the problem is in the front end it should be addressed and worked upon, until it's fixed. If the problem is not in the front end of this section of the website, then the back end should be analyzed and worked on if the problem is there.
CONTENT	The Kitchen textiles sections should open up and show all the items inside that page, with all of the clients' products showcased and with all the details as input.
